Preface

It is the end of another school year at King High... a time to pause and reflect...to review the events that have passed....In many ways, it was a wonderful year... a year of working, of planning, of participating, of playing....

Each day was filled with little things...a misplaced homework paper...a locker that wouldn't open...hours of classroom note-taking...cramming for exams...the evenings with two club meetings, a senior play practice, a part-time job, and the prospect of three tests the next day....

There were big moments too...moments remembered with thoughts both happy and melancholy...the first day of high school for ninth graders...the crowning of Miss King High to the theme of "Autumn Leaves"...Stokes County voters approving consolidation...another successful basketball season...seniors being accepted for college...a year's work culminating in the annual achievement day...the anticipation of commencement....

In many ways, large and small, this year was a wonderful one....For six hours and forty-five minutes of five days a week of nine months, this was life at King High.

Administration

MR. O. T. NEAL
Principal

Mr. O. T. Neal, Principal of King High School, spent his years of preparation for teaching and administration at Guilford College with advanced study at Duke University. After several years of successful social studies teaching and coaching, he became principal five years ago. The community and student body are indebted to him for nearly twenty years of service to King High.

Education in King

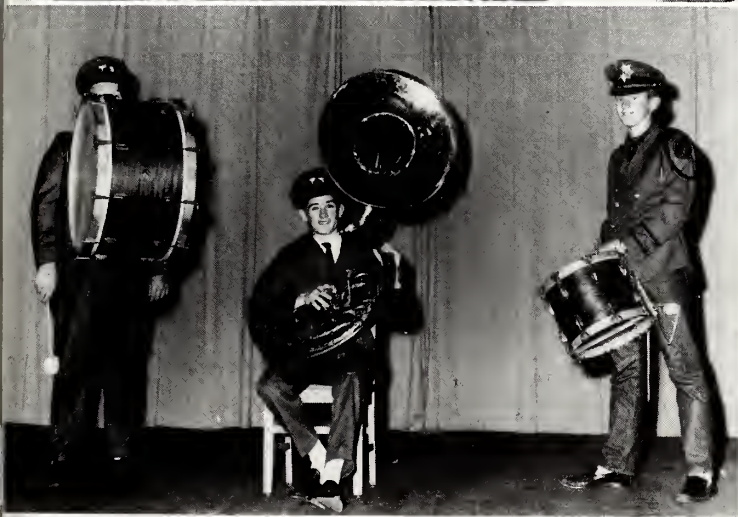

We Play . . .

To You . . .

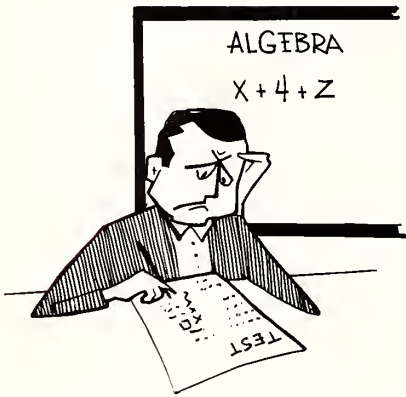

for your helpfulness as a teacher...for your kind understanding of our daily problems...for your guidance in student activities...and for your capable coaching of our athletic teams, we dedicate this 1963 EAGLE, MR. SID WILLIAMS.

Within These Walls . . .

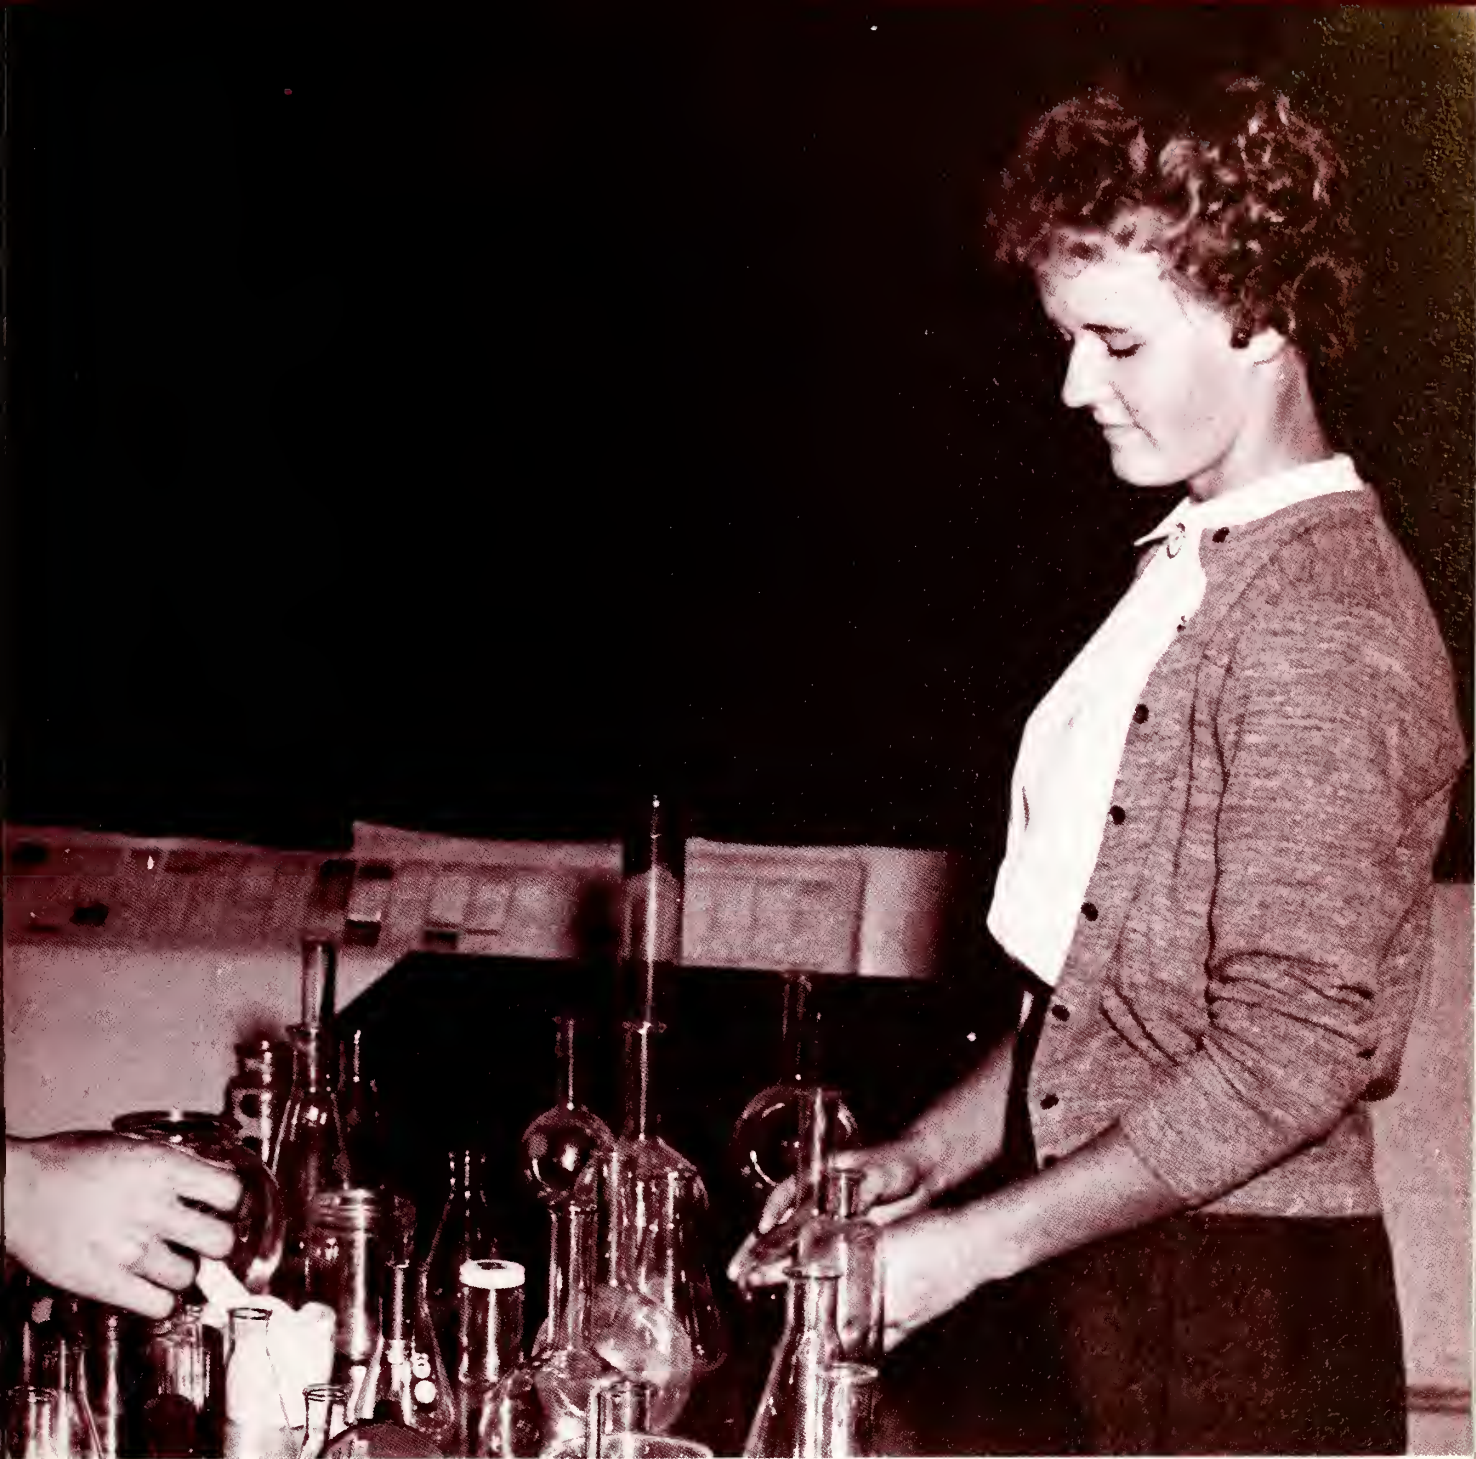

...are created the sounds of school life at King High...pep rallies...the cheers that urged our teams to victory...the teachers' lectures...the busy hum of club activities...the harmony of chorus and band... the clatter in the dining hall at lunch hour...the applause for an assembly program...the ceaseless chatter of students at work and play.... These are the sounds of education.

High School Academic Life

We Work . . .

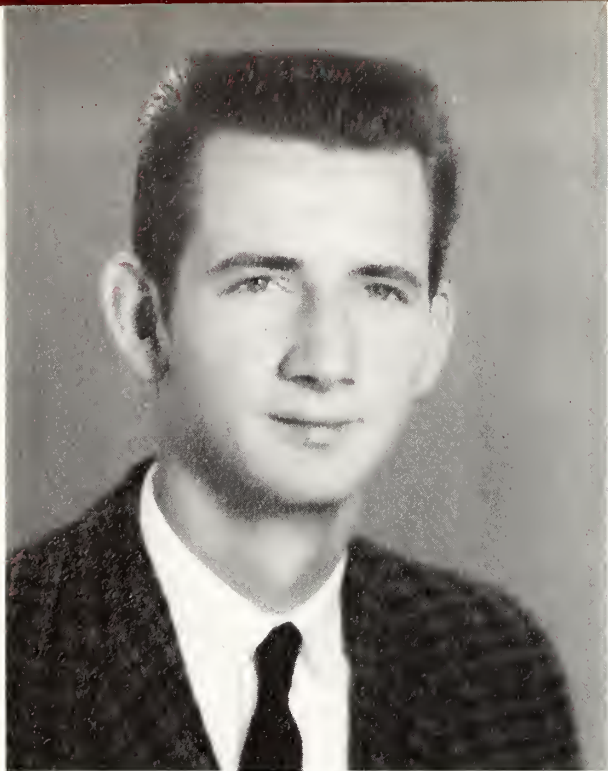

James Cox and Wanda Davis inventory glassware before beginning an experiment in science lab.

The academic life of students and teachers is the heart of the educational program. Through our classes we acquire the tools for thought, for experimentation, for calculation, for communication. We acquire the essential knowledge for maintaining sound minds and bodies so that we may become contributing members in our society. We have accepted the challenge of quality education, and we are working harder than ever before to achieve its standards.

Class of 1963

JOHN SNIDER
Senior Class President

"Great Caesar's Ghost"...class rings...senior photos...invitations and calling cards...trying to be dignified but still acting like children...the great decisions concerning our futures...studying hard to make that record look as good as possible...these are the things that have occupied our time and minds during this our senior year.

101 Sophomores

Mrs. Moser helps students with problem on percentages in Math II.

Mrs. Rebecca R. Moser, a graduate of King High School, continued her education at Woman's College, where she received her B. A. degree. She returned to King and has taught in both the elementary and the high school. She presently teaches math and is librarian. Mrs. Moser, interested in music, also directs the Glee Club. She has always devoted much of her time to student activities. Out of school, she enjoys embroidery and traveling.

Mr. Douglas Pedigo, of Galax, Virginia, is a graduate with a B. A. degree from Wake Forest College. He did undergraduate work at Carson-Newman in Tennessee. Mr. Pedigo is assistant coach and teacher of American history and French. For recreation he likes hunting, reading, and golf.

MR. DOUGLAS PEDIGO

Students in Mr. Pedigo's French class use the tape recorder in order to improve their ability to speak French.

Are Listed in Class of '65

Miss Kathleen Hall, teacher of English and social studies, is also the school's guidance counselor. Miss Hall, who formerly taught in Thomasville City Schools and at Gray High School, graduated with the B. A. degree from Woman's College. She has also studied at High Point College, Longwood College, and Columbia University. Aside from her dedication to her work, Miss Hall has a variety of interests ranging from needlepoint to traveling country lanes. Our student body is especially grateful for her interest in student government. Miss Hall commutes to King from her home in Winston-Salem.

Sophomores learn of man's advance in civilization in Miss Hall's world history class.

Mrs. Virginia Patterson is another member of our faculty who is a King native. After receiving her training at Mars Hill College and Woman's College, where she graduated with a B. S. degree, Mrs. Patterson taught in Alexander County and served as an Extension Agent in Iredell County. Since her return to King, she has not only taught King girls to sew and cook, but she has also served as faculty adviser for many student projects and extra-curricular activities.

Girls making wool suits in home economics apply their knowledge of design, construction, and fabrics.

88 Freshmen Entered

MRS. JANE PEDIGO
Freshman Class Sponsor

Mrs. Jane Pedigo, English and social studies teacher, began her teaching career at King last year. A native of Galax, Virginia, Mrs. Pedigo received her B. A. degree from Radford College of the Virginia Polytech Institute. She enjoys hunting and music. Cheerleaders and Beta Club members appreciate Mrs. Pedigo as their faculty advisor.

Mrs. Pedigo's freshman English class works on the parts of speech and the parts of the simple sentence.

Mr. Underwood introduces axioms to his Algebra I class.

Mr. James Underwood, a native of Winchester, Tennessee, lived in Winston-Salem before coming to King. He attended Brevard College and received his B. S. and M. A. degrees from the University of North Carolina. Mr. Underwood has also studied at the University of Kansas. Besides teaching math, Mr. Underwood has worked at Pleasants Hardware, Hanes Hosiery, Carolina Theater, and Ideal Drygoods Company. He has also served in the U. S. Army and taught in Danville, Virginia.

High School This Year

Mr. Melvin Hunter, teacher of physics, physical science, and health, came to King after beginning his teaching career at Pinnacle. Mr. Hunter attended Mars Hill College and received his B. S. degree from Wake Forest. He has also worked at R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company under their summer employment program for school personnel. Mr. Hunter enjoys sports activities in his leisure time. He and Mrs. Hunter, who teaches sixth grade, make their home in Winston-Salem.

MR. MELVIN HUNTER

The girls in Mr. Hunter's physical education class admire his stance at home plate.

Members of Mr. Furches' agriculture class study in preparation for cattle judging contest.

MR. SAMUEL FURCHES
Agriculture

Mr. Sam Furches, vocational agriculture teacher, is a native of Farmington, North Carolina. He received his B. S. degree from North Carolina State College. Mr. Furches was an Army officer before he began teaching. His hobby is photography. The King chapter of the Futures Farmers of America, which Mr. Furches advises, has won many honors for the school and community.

Elementary Academic Life

We Participate . . .

A group of elementary students study the globe in preparation for a project in social studies.

By taking an active part in the academic life of our school, we learn by doing. We help in the planning of units of work; we share our experiences, materials, and ideas; we engage in independent study and group projects; thus we live our education rather than passively receive.

Assistant Principal

The King Elementary School is a part of the King School administrative unit. Mr. Rober Covington serves as a seventh grade teacher and as assistant principal in the elementary school building. Mr. Covington, a graduate of Guilford College, has also served as a high school teacher and assistant coach.

MR. ROBER COVINGTON
Assistant Principal

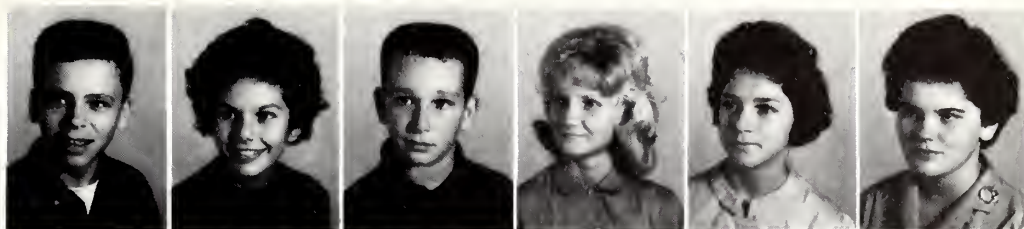

Eighth Grade Faculty

Coordinating their work activities are eighth grade teachers, Mrs. Irene Brandon, Mr. Carl Felts, and Mr. R. M. Collins.

School Service Staffs

King School could not operate without the services of its cafeteria workers, custodians, and bus drivers. The daily preparation of nutritious lunches, the operation of the fleet of buses, and the care of the five buildings on the campus for a student body of more than a thousand are no small tasks. We are indeed grateful to our school service staffs.

ELEMENTARY SCHOOL CAFETERIA STAFF: Mrs. Della Martin, Mrs. Maude Hall, Mrs. Lonnie Baker, Manager; Mrs. Nadine Barr, Cashier.

Student Organizations

We Plan . . .

Student Council President, Jack Bovender, presides at an officers' meeting attended by Freya Johnson, Vice-President; Betty Badgett, Treasurer; Nancy Hall, Corresponding Secretary; and Pam Kirby, Recording Secretary.

In student organizations we develop valuable knowledge and experience in planning a course of action. Students, under the capable guidance of faculty advisers, are responsible for the activities of student organizations... The school newspaper...the school science fair...the recognition of service and scholarship...the assembly programs...the hall bulletin board displays...improvements to the school grounds...the publishing of the EAGLE...the developing of farm and home leadership... practice and increased learning in business and mathematics...the training for future leadership...these were contributions that students at King High helped to plan in 1962-1963.

MISS KATHLEEN HALL

Members of the Ways and Means Committee—Mary Jane Tuttle, Gary Smith, and Grady Stone—are responsible for financing the activities of the Student Council.

The Assembly Committee meets to plan chapel programs for the year. Members are Sandra Newsome, Karen Edwards, and Glenn Gentry.

The Student Council serves to unite all groups of the high school student body. Members are selected from each homeroom, from each student club and organization, and officers are elected by the student body. Council activities for the year have included school socials, assembly programs, a get-out-and-vote campaign for school consolidation, and a program for senior assistance to underclassmen.

Seated: Joann Southern, Janice Redding, Carolyn Slate, Diane Boyles, Karen Edwards, Carole Brandon, Mary Ann Gentry, Frankye Pulliam, Penny Smith, Patricia Hunter, Patricia Keiger. Council

Members of the School Grounds Committee, Ronnie Mabe and Ronnie Westmoreland, set an example for other students in keeping the grounds clean.

Two members of the Bulletin Board Committee, Mary Ann Kirby and Beverly Kiser, work on an autumn display using natural materials.

Library Club

Seated: Bonnie Kirby, Jo Ann Southern, Mrs. Moser, Librarian. Standing: Diane Browder, Bonnie Gravely, Sylvia Sprinkle, Janice Redding, Hazel Parris, Melba Craddock.

Senior Science Club

The Senior Engineers' Science Club consists of those students who have displayed a particular interest in biology, physics, or chemistry.

Its members help to promote the school and county science fairs. Professional men in the field of science have rendered valuable service to the club.

Selling ads, taking subscriptions, planning lay-outs, arranging for photography—these are the initial steps in planning a yearbook. Then come the identification of pictures, hunting the information for copy, the rush to complete art work, the innumerable hours of writing and counting and typing before the final wrapping-up to meet the deadline. The 1963 EAGLE staff has conscientiously endeavored to record in word and picture a balanced story of the many facets of life at King School. To our sponsors, faculty, advertisers, publishers, and those seniors not on the staff, we acknowledge a debt of gratitude for their time and effort in contributing to the 1963 EAGLE.

Athletics and Features

We Play . . .

Members of King High School Band line up for parade on the eve of the Stokes County Fair.

In a musical performance, in a class play, in a pageant traditional at King High, in a basketball tournament, in a heated debate, we play our roles with the same energy and enthusiasm that we apply to our academie work. These features of our school life have won recognition not only in our community but also throughout the county and state.

Mrs. Mary Marinus, director of the senior play, demonstrates special effects to Junior Collins, who played the Majah.

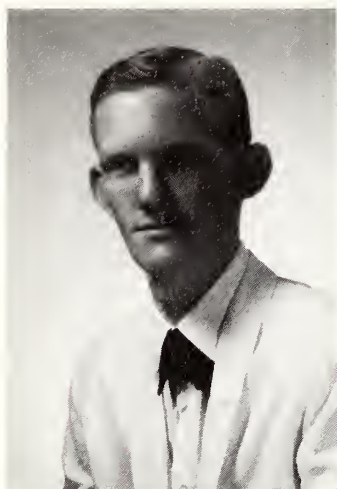

Bruce Robertson, playing the part of a rowdy teenager, eludes the cook, Melba Craddock, as Steve Pulliam, the butler, looks on.

Rehearsing the third act are members of the cast: Frankie Barr, Bruce Robertson, Judy Tabor, Sandra Newsome, Faye Flippin, Frances Stewart, Karen Edwards, and Jackie Bovender.

LAWRENCE VOSS

BONNIE GRAVELY

Most Studious

Bonnie and Lawrence have approached their work in high school with seriousness and perserverance. They have made enviable records: Bonnie leads her class scholastically, and Lawrence has maintained a high average. Both have been active in those student activities related to academic work.

BONNIE KIRBY

Most Likely To Succeed

Of the senior class, Bonnie and John have been elected most likely to succeed. Their undertakings in high school have shown that they pursue conscientiously each project to a successful conclusion. John, as president, has led his class through an outstanding senior year; Bonnie has served as a capable editor of the EAGLE.

Best All Around

Voted best all around seniors, Doug and Sylvia have participated in many phases of school life. Each has taken part in the varsity athletic program, has been active in school organizations, and has been successful in academic endeavors.

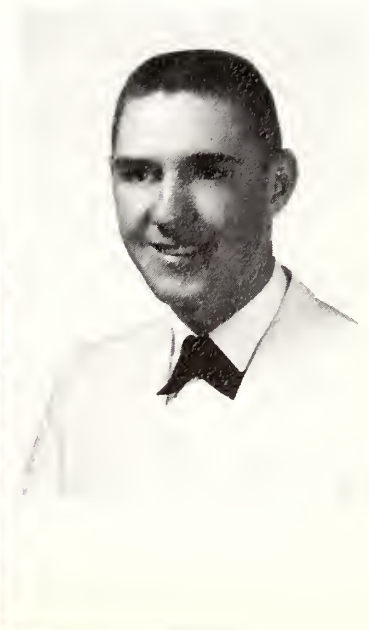

MARY ANN GENTRY

Best Personalities

Versatile, popular, witty, and talented are adjectives that describe Mary Ann and Jimmy. Both enjoy being with other people, both are musically talented, and both have a cheerful outlook on life. Their friendliness and pleasant dispositions truly give them the best personalities in the senior class.

JIMMY TEDDER

PAM KISER

E. R. CONRAD

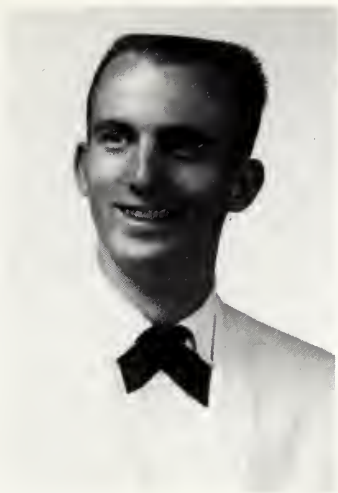

Best Looking

Pam, with her striking blond coloring and charming attractiveness, and E. R. with his dark, handsome features, were easily selected as the best looking seniors. In addition to their good looks, they are well liked for their pleasant dispositions and friendly ways.

Most Athletic

The King basketball teams have been assisted in a valuable way by two outstanding seniors. Calvin and Judy became varsity players as freshmen. Much of the credit for the successes of the 1963 season belongs to Judy and Calvin.

Representatives To Girls' State

Each year the American Legion Auxiliary sponsors two girls who attend Girls' State which is held on the campus of Woman's College. The American Legion and the Lions Club sponsor two boys as representatives to Boys' State at the University of North Carolina. Representatives from junior classes from all parts of the state establish and operate a mock state government. The purpose of Boys' and Girls' State is to inform young people of the functions of the state government and to train them for civic leadership.

Representatives To Boys' State

JACK BOVENDER

Jack Bovender, elected Governor of Boys' State, presides at a meeting of the delegates.

Governor of Boys' State

Jack, with other delegates to Boys' Nation, meets Secretary of Commerce, Luther Hodges.

Jack Bovender, one of King's representatives to Boys' State, won recognition for himself and his school and community by winning the public speaking contest and being elected Governor of Boys' State. Jack then was selected to attend Boys' Nation where he became majority leader of the Senate.

In a general session of Boys' Nation, the delegates study the national government.

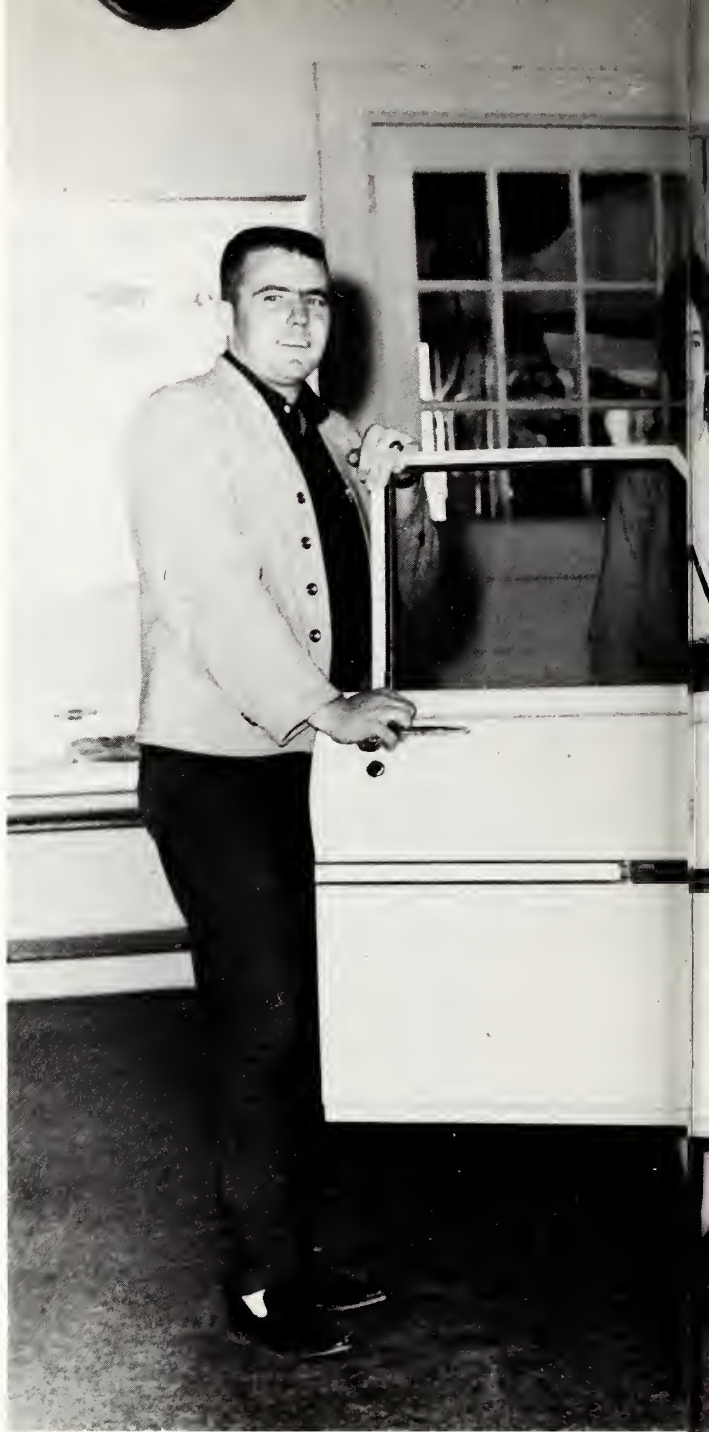

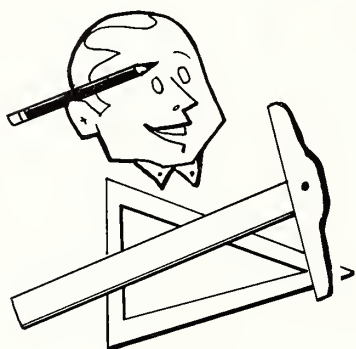

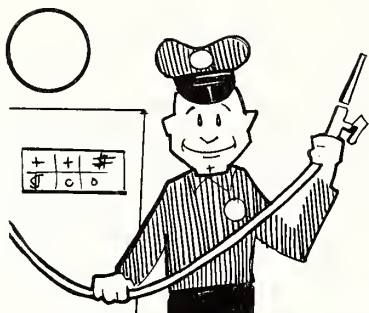

Within These Walls . . .

...another busy school year has come to a close....For some of us the sounds of life at King High will be heard no more; but wherever the future leads us, the echoes of our life within these walls will resound...and speak to us.

We Patronize . . .

Those business men and women who have supported the EAGLE by buying advertising space have contributed in no small measure to our school life. The yearbook with its record of events and accomplishments serves as an incentive and reward for student achievement and participation. To you, our advertisers, we are grateful; and we shall always regard you as our friends and supporters of our school's program.

Have a Coke!

Every human being, created in the image of God, is endowed with a power akin to that of the Creator—Individuality, power to think and do. The men in whom this power is developed are the men who bear Responsibilities, who are leaders in enterprise, and influence Character. It is the work of true education to develop this power; to train the youth to be thinkers, and not mere reflectors of other men's thought. Instead of confining their study to that which men have said or written, let students be directed to the sources of truth, to the vast fields opened for research in nature and revelation. Let them contemplate the great facts of duty and destiny, and the mind will expand and strengthen. Instead of educated weaklings, institutions of learning may send forth men strong to think and to act, men who are masters and not slaves of circumstances, men who possess breadth of mind, clearness of thought, and the courage of their convictions.

Such an education provides more than mental discipline; it provides more than physical training. It strengthens the Character, so that truth and uprightness are not sacrificed to selfish desire or worldly ambition. It fortifies the mind against Evil. Instead of some master passion becoming a power to destroy, every motive and desire are brought into conformity to the great principles of Right. As the perfection of His character is dwelt upon, the mind is renewed, and the soul is recreated in the image of God.

What education can be higher than this? What can equal it in value?
